She Did Nicely, but The Unexpected Happened

"EVERYTHING is ready. My trunk is packed, sent to the station and is checked through. Didn't I do nicely?"

"That's good management, that is."

"This was the conversation between a certain west end man and his wife one afternoon recently. The wife was about to go on a western trip and expected to leave on the 11:40 train that night for Buffalo. Her husband had secured a pass for her, and she was happy. At the dinner table the question of readiness for the trip again became the topic of discussion.

"Have you your money and pass all right?" inquired the husband.

"Oh, yes," answered the wife, fumbling in her pocketbook. "I placed it in this compartment. Why, what has become of it? My goodness, it isn't here!" And she turned pale with apprehension. "Whatever did I do with it?"

"Look in your bureau drawers," suggested the husband.

This was done, and every other possible hiding place was searched, but without success.

"I believe I placed it in my trunk," said the excited wife, almost in tears. "I'm almost sure I did. Whatever will I do?"

"Have you your trunk checked?"

"Yes. But the trunk has gone to Buffalo."

"Maybe it hasn't gone yet. Give me the check and trunk key and I'll see if I can find it." Saying which, the disgraced husband hurried to the baggage room at the union station, where he looked for his trunk. The trunk was still there. After some little difficulty he opened the trunk and found the missing pass stowed carefully away in one of the numerous boxes in the upper part of the trunk. From that time on until the train left for Buffalo the husband kept watch of the pass. A too careful wife is apt to need assistance.

—Albany Journal.

Why He Didn't.

After the adjournment in the senate the other morning half a dozen members of that body congregated on one of the big leather covered couches in the rear of the hall. Senator Robinson, Senator John G. Hill, Colonel Luther H. Gadd and several others made up the party, which took to swapping yarns after the discussion which drew them together had been disposed of. Mr. Robinson told a story, among others, which was highly appreciated by the little group and by no one more than Senator Gadd himself.

"I asked Jim Owens," said Mr. Robinson, "why they didn't pass the resolutions at their indignation meeting which they proposed asking my friend here, Colonel Gadd, to resign."

"Well, I'll tell you why we didn't," Jim replied, as sober as a judge and in dead earnest. "We had two good reasons. First we couldn't have got the resolutions through, and Gadd wouldn't have resigned if we had."

Annapolis Chronicle.

Stand of the Game.

"Well, Jimmy, have you been a good boy today?"

"No, I ain't. What's the use? Ma owes me a penny for being good yesterday."

His Feelings.

"How do you feel?" said the impressionable person, "when you have heard a piece of music that particularly appeals to you?"

"After hearing what mother and the girls have to say about my musical taste," answered Mr. Cumrox, "I generally feel ashamed of myself."—Washington Star.

That Korean Feeling.

"You look discouraged."

"I am. I've a regular Korea feeling."

"How's that?"

"Everybody's been walking all over me today without considering whether I like it or not."—Chicago Record-Herald.

More.

"And if you had all the money you wanted would you really be satisfied?"

"Well, I'd be satisfied if I had all I could get."—Philadelphia Press.

Success Easier Than Failure.

The principles that win success are very simple and few in number. They are easily remembered. Here they are: First, industry, but not overwork; second, willingness to profit by the experience of others; third, ability, coupled with modesty; fourth, simple and correct habits; fifth, honesty, politeness and fairness. Any one of ordinary ability who practices these rules cannot avoid success. Success is easier than failure.—Atchison Globe.

A Guarded Admission.

"You would be glad enough to marry me if I had plenty of money," exclaimed the impecunious young man, preparing to go.

"No," she said, with a dreamy sigh. "I should hate awfully to have to marry you, but if you had plenty of money I might."—Chicago Tribune.

CURED CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, of Charwater, Kas., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and it cured him. That was six years ago, and since then we have always kept a bottle of it in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by J. M. Jones.

READ IT THROUGH

"TWOLED SEEN THIS STORY TO TELL IT IN THE HEADLINES."

Toussaint eighteenth century phrase, this is a "two led tale." Having happened in a small Virginia town in the winter of 1902, it is a story much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last January," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared she would have pneumonia; but one of my neighbors told me how this remedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to my baby at once, and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I can not recommend it too highly or say too much in its favor. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced as I was." For sale by all druggists.

Gossip manifests the bad taste of the speaker.

COLDS ARE DANGEROUS.

How often do you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia? This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
